GET YOUR FOOD HANDLERS CERTIFICATE TODAY

At Denco Family, obtaining a food handler's certificate is simple. All you have to do is finish a training program and pass an exam to get a food handler card that is valid everywhere.

This Food Handler course has been developed to meet the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) E2659 standard practice for certificate programs requirements by training experts with the guidance of health department food safety officials, food management professionals and food handlers like you. It is periodically updated to stay current with food codes and to improve quality.

Be sure you have a discount code before you click "Add to Cart" or it will not be free and will require a credit card. Open Guide to Getting Your Food Handler Training to see full instructions for how to register for and complete the food handler course.

Use the information in the table, below, to help answer any questions you may have.

FAQs:

QUESTION	ANSWER
When do I need to complete the course?	On your first day of hire during orientation, while you are on the clock.
How much does the course cost?	If you use the discount code for your store, on dencotraining.com , then it is at no cost to you, as the Company is paying for it.
I'm having problems with the course. Who do I contact?	Reach out to Responsible Training at (512) 996-0909.
How long is the permit good for?	Three years from the issue date.
Will I get paid for the time it takes to complete the course?	Yes, as this course will be completed while you are clocked in on your shift.
What happens if I lose my permit?	You can reprint your permit by logging in to your account. Go to the course and click the Certificate link. From there you can download the certificate. Once you've downloaded the document, save the PDF file and print or share it, as needed.
What if I already have a ServSafe certificate?	Non-expired food manager or food handler certificates are accepted. Bring your original certificate with you to orientation. If you don't have the original and took the course through Denco, download the certificate from dencotraining.com .
Do I need to take this course if I have another certificate from another provider?	If the course from that provider meets California requirements and/or is ANAB-sanitation approved, you do not have to retake the course. Bring your certificate with you to orientation.
What do I do with my certificate?	After you have downloaded your certificate, you can upload it to your account in paycom.com .
